Evan is quiet and respectful of others in Chorus class. Judging from the grades on his rhythm and note reading quizzes, he understands the concepts we have been learning. I would like to see him more involved in two ways. He rarely raises his hand to answer a question, even when I feel that he knows the answer. Also, when we are doing work in the Essential Musicianship book, he frequently is looking at something else in the room, and not at the book. The activities in the book are easy right now, but they will become more difficult, and he may miss some important points if he is not looking at the book.
